Teletrol Systems, Inc. • An innovative automation system for integrated HVAC, lighting and access control that uses open, standard information technology communication protocols to take advantage of Internet-based data and connectivity. Uses the ASHRAE BACnet protocol. The eBuilding products use native BACnet over IP (Internet Protocol) on 10 /100Mbps Ethernet as well as native BACnet over MS/TP RS-485 networks for reliable high-speed delivery of information. XML (extensible Markup Language - the language of the Internet) is also used to bi-directionally communicate configuration, program, and operational data.

Peirce-Phelps, Inc. provides sales, energy analysis, engineering, installation, commissioning, and service support for Teletrol Systems in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.
